

File handling

Note : Use a sample file to answer the below questions.

1. Write a python code to open a file for appending data.
2. How would you read two characters from a file .
3. Which command is used to read the entire content of the file as a string.
4. How to read the next line of the file .
5. Which command is used to open a file for reading in binary format only?